

Exposed maritime crew members

If you are a crew member of an exposed vessel (e.g. an international vessel) and you disembark, or propose to disembark, into Western Australia, you are an exposed maritime crew member and must comply with the Maritime Crew Member Directions.

Approved reasons for disembarking for exposed maritime crew members

You may only disembark an exposed vessel:

- to travel to Perth Airport, provided you have a ticket or confirmed booking for a flight to a destination outside of Australia; or
- to travel to a quarantine centre or crew hotel to await a flight to a destination outside of Australia, provided that you have a ticket or confirmed booking for the flight; or
- if you are ordinarily resident in Australia – in which case you must comply with quarantine requirements; or
- to immediately board another vessel at the same port; or
- to carry out port activities in connection with the relevant vessel; or
- to seek medical or dental treatment;

Full details on requirements and procedures are outlined in the Maritime Crew Member Directions available at www.wa.gov.au/sites/default/files/2021-06/Maritime-Crew-Member-Directions.pdf

Travel to an approved location

You MUST travel via a dedicated vessel, vehicle or aircraft wherever practicable. You can use a private vehicle, taxi or rideshare service if it is not practicable to use a dedicated vehicle. You MUST NOT travel using any form of public transport.

You can share a ride with other exposed maritime crew members, even if you have disembarked from different vessels. You MUST NOT share a ride with on-board workers or rig or platform crew members.

While travelling to your approved destination, you MUST:

stay 1.5m from other people wherever practicable

wear a disposable surgical face mask

cover coughs or sneezes

travel as soon as possible by the most direct route available

wash hands often with soap and water or use alcohol hand rub

NOT leave the vehicle or vessel except for an emergency, or to use toilet facilities (where strictly necessary)

Dedicated waiting area at regional airports

If you are passing through a regional airport you must go straight to the dedicated waiting area and remain there until your flight.

You can share the dedicated waiting area with other exposed maritime crew members, even if you have disembarked from different vessels. You MUST remain separate from all other people.

You MUST wear a disposable surgical face mask while in the dedicated waiting area.
